The Pass Celebrates Labor Day

Coleman Awards $1,200 in Prizes and Pulls off a Grand Sports Programme—Bellevue Flower and Vegetable Show Exceeds all Expectations

Labor Day was fittingly celebrated at Coleman and Bellevue. At the former town a grand programme of sports was pulled off, including field events of every description. Not the least amusing were the bucking contests and the catching of the greasy pig. Football, tennis and golf were among the main features of the day. Every street and store window in town were beautifully decorated and presented a pleasing spectacle to the hundreds of visitors. Besides the refreshment tents, operated on the sports grounds, the cafés and hotels were well patronized. Prizes aggregating $1200 were awarded, and all voted the programme as well arranged and carried out.

The Bellevue Flower and Vegetable Show surpassed all expectations and proved to all that in order to do justice to the many and worthy exhibits another large and properly arranged exhibition hall will have to be provided. Last year the exhibition was held in two rooms of the Bellevue public school, which at that time was sufficiently large. This year it was expected that a larger place would be necessary, and the executive arranged for the use of the Workers' Hall, and that building proved to be altogether inadequate in size to do justice to the exhibits and the number of people. From the opening hour on till long after the time set for closing, the aisles of the building were filled with a moving mass of people excitedly interested in the result of patience and industry on the part of the citizens of Bellevue and district. Next issue we will publish a list of the classes and prize winners.

Music was furnished during the exhibition by the popular Bellevue orchestra of six pieces. After the closing hour a large portion of the exhibits, including fancy work, flowers and vegetables, were sold for the benefit of the club, and a grand dance brought to a climax an event equal in many respects to anything of the nature that has been put on in any part of the province.

Mr. Odey, of Calgary, who acted in the capacity of judge, which important post they had the honor of holding last year, were again loud in their praise of the efforts put forward by the citizens of the club, stating that the arrangement of the exhibits on display at Bellevue on this occasion would have done justice to some of the exhibitions in larger and more important cities.

The enterprise of the people of Bellevue and district, members of the Bellevue and district Horticultural and Industrial Club, is worthy of the admiration and most liberal commendation of the citizens of the Province. Two little interest has been taken in the agricultural and agricultural possibilities of the district, but the time that has been set by a few enterprising nature-loving citizens let us fall in line and see to it that hundreds of others will be represented at next season's exhibition.

The programme of field sports was carried out successfully under the charge of the following committee: Mr. E. E. Foster, J. Higgins, R. Kerr, T. Bradlev, J. Lindsay, G. Copeland and H. Campbell.

In last week's issue we inadvertently referred to the above committee as being in charge of the sports, as a selector separated and apart from the exhibition, which was handled directly by the executive.

Local and General

Practically all the mines in The Pass are now working full swing.

Mrs. James Milne returned last week end from a few weeks' visit to Calgary.

It just took 12,000 barrels of flour to make ice cream cones in Canada last year.

Miss H. McCarthy, last year with the Bellevue staff, is now teaching at Calgary.

T. B. George is relieving Manager Morrow, of the Union Bank at Lethbridge for a few weeks.

Murray Saunders, representing Ashdown's Hardware, Calgary, was in town on Wednesday.

A mass meeting of war veterans will be held in the opera house on Sunday at 1:30 p. m., to be addressed by T. Longworth, president of the Lethbridge branch of the G. W. V. A.

Mrs. F. M. Pinkney and Mrs. F. M. Thompson and children have returned from a pleasant holiday spent at Nelson.

J. McPhail, master mechanic with the West Canadian Collieries, returned last week end from a business visit to Nordegg.

A grand sacred concert will be held in the opera house on Sunday at 4 p. m., under the auspices of the Great War Veterans Association.

The first programme of the fall Lyceum circuit will be the Serbian Orchestra, to appear at the opera house on the night of September 30th.

Rum is sold in St. Pierre for $5 per gallon. When it gets to North Sydney it sells for $25 per gallon. It is then watered and retails for 25 cents a glass, which means that the retailer gets about $60 per gallon.

Sgt. Augustus Howe arrived from England on Monday morning, accompanied by Mrs. Howe.

The local school has started the term with an average enrolment of forty pupils per class. Some of the rooms are overtaxed.

Even camouflage can be overdone. A heap of sausages on an incoming steamer to San Francisco looked so toothsome that a customs officer lifted one to admire it. Altogether they contained $10,000 worth of opium.

The local school opened on Tuesday of this week with the following staff of teachers: Donald M. J. Conway; principal; Misses E. M. Fulton, V. J. Keith, S. W. McColm, M. Grant,—Kennedy and Mrs. Stebbings.

Board of Health Meeting

A special meeting of the Blairmore Board of Health will be held in the town hall on Monday evening next at 8 o'clock, when citizens are asked to attend. The report of the provincial sanitary inspector will be discussed.

Liars In Competition

"Horses!" said Mike. "Guess you can't talk horses to me. I had an old mare named Moizy, who once licked the fly by a couple of miles on a run from Crowe's Nest to Macleod."

"That's nothing," said Lang, a Welshman. "I was out on Harrison's ranch near Little when a frightful storm came on. I turned the pony's head towards Calgary, and do you know he raced the storm so close for the last ten miles that I didn't feel a drop of rain, while my dog, only ten yards behind, had to swim the whole distance."

Warning Against Hoarding Sugar

Toronto.—With reference to an Ottawa dispatch of Aug. 23, stating that the wholesale grocers, in their convention at Ottawa, had predicted that sugar would rise to 20 cents a pound before the present shortage would be relieved, Hugh Blair, president of the Wholesale Grocers' association of Canada, said:

"There must be some mistake about this, as no discussion took place at the convention as to what the price of sugar was likely to be. It was, however, stated to the convention that the speculators in the United States had bought up fifty cars of sugar, and sugar at Halifax, at the regular Canadian price, but it had been resold to other speculators in the United States and was now offered for $1390 at Halifax to the Dominion government, and I believe a few cars were bought at this price. The convention generally felt that to buy sugar at such a figure might have the effect of creating an advance on all sugars, which would be most unfortunate."

"It was also felt that selling this sugar would have the appearance of profiteering, even if sold again at cost, because sugar is sold today in Montreal to the wholesale trade at $10.40 and $10.50, with the usual discount off, and is resold to the retail trade at these figures, with the freight added. The shortage in sugar has been caused entirely through the lack of shipping facilities, owing to the fact that the Canadian railroads refuse to get raw sugar, and if shipping facilities can be restored to normal conditions without further delay, we should get supplies of refined sugar to meet our requirements within the next 30 or 60 days."

"I would like to warn the public against buying sugar beyond their pressing requirements, because hoarding sugar is certainly going to increase the price to the consumers, who will be want, besides depriving the rest of the public from getting their fair share of what sugar is to be had. Every wholesale and retail grocer should furnish their customers with the smallest quantity of sugar they can get along with until sugar becomes more plentiful."

Three Men Burn to Death

Boise, Idaho.—Three men were burned to death in a forest fire raged near Burdorff, north of Lake City. The crew of a team of a crew of 200 which turned out to save the village of Gurgorff. Heavy winds swept the flames through the forest, and cut the three men off from the crew. The fire is the largest of the season in southern Idaho, having spread over more than 40,000 acres since it started.

Wheat Board to Meet at Toronto

Winnipeg.—A public meeting of the Canadian Wheat Board will be held in the Board of Trade rooms, Royal Bank building, Toronto, Ont., at 9:30 a.m., Monday, Sept. 8, when the board will hear expressions of opinion from the public on the scheme for the handling of the 1919 wheat crop.

Lloyd George Calls Halt To Expenditures

Denies Report

That Great Britain Is Seeking Rail-way Concession Through Estonia

Copenhagen.—The Estonian press bureau officially denies the report recently printed by the National Tidende that Great Britain is seeking a railway concession through Estonia to Russia, or that negotiations are under way for the lease of the islands of Dago and Oesel.

The time has come when each minister ought to make clear to those under his control that if they cannot reduce expenditure they must make room for somebody who can. That is the public temper, and it is right.

The Press declaimed it is indescribable that the staffs of the public services have hardly been reduced perceptibly since the ending of the war, and says that those responsible must be compelled to perform their duty, however unpleasant. With regard to ruthless cutting, he adds:

"We must content ourselves with the second best where the best is too costly."

The Premier concludes by telling the ministers that they must find time during recess to consider the best method of dealing with the question and report to him by midnight what steps they have taken or propose to take.

Workers Disregard Orders of Their Union Leaders and Quit Work

Stop Work On Warships

Step May Involve Loss of Some 25 Million Pounds

London.—All private shipbuilding yards throughout the country, numbering about twenty, are affected by the government order that all work be stopped on warships except those about to be launched.

The Admiralty yards at Chatham, Devonport and Portsmouth will not stop, however, as they are entirely occupied with the refitting of 2,700 steamers which are about to be returned to the owners from whom they were requisitioned for war service. Among the warships being built at private yards are carriers, destroyers and submarines, and the work of some of these may be continued, according to the Mail, if it is found cheaper to complete them than to break them up.

Shipbuilders must be liberally compensated in cases where contracts are broken, but although several million pounds sterling may be involved, it may prove more economical than carrying out the building program.

The Mail quotes an officer of the Admiralty as saying that one reason for stopping work on warships is that the step will clear the yards for commercial building. There is an excellent demand for new tonnage, and this work will probably absorb the men liberated by the stoppage of work on naval vessels. According to the Glasgow Daily Record, work on 40 warships valued at $125,000,000 has been stopped.

Abdicated Ruler Sues for Estate

Berlin.—Former Duke Charles Edward of Coburg-Gotha has filed a suit against the republic of Gotha and its commissioners to recover his estate, which was confiscated when he declined to accept a settlement of 15,000,000 marks.

The Prince of Waldeck-Pyrmont is also suing for the recovery of half of his domain after the failure of negotiations with the new government.

Sending Families to Switzerland

Geneva.—Swiss newspapers state that nearly all the Bolshevik leaders in Russia and Hungary, and even in Germany, have sent their wives and relatives to Switzerland lately for safety, thereby condemning their own regime of terror.

The women were supplied with false passports, chiefly Czech-Slovak, and false names. The Swiss authorities have discovered this trickery, and are applying stricter measures on examination.

Prince to See Hockey Match

Victoria.—An ice hockey game for the entertainment of the Prince of Wales during his visit here in September is the plan that Lester Patriss has on hand. He will probably gather together a couple of teams of professional players to give the royal visitor an opportunity of seeing an exhibition of Canada's national winter game on artificial ice.

Cannot Rely On States

Sir Auckland Geddes Says Europe Must Work Independently

London.—Sir Auckland Geddes, Minister of National Service and Reconstruction, speaking at Basingstoke on government economy, said that a special financial committee of which Lloyd George is chairman has been formed for that purpose and that the Premier was throwing himself with great energy into the work of cutting down expenditure.

Sir Auckland said that it was useless to rely on the United States to print the British people through their difficulties. The United States had its own trade difficulties. She had increased the industrialism of her population and was not only a great exporter of manufactures, but the greatest exporter of raw materials.

She was in the unhappy position of possessing so much that there was little she wanted, and, as a result, exchange between New York and London moved in her favor and, therefore, against her power to export. Moreover, because Britain required United States raw material, he said, it was increasingly difficult for the United States to export manufactured articles to the Atlantic. The only result of United States flooding Europe with goods would be a movement of exchange in her favor, making the price of United States goods in this country prohibitive. Europe must, therefore, work out her own salvation, he declared.

Benefits Of Prohibition

Figures From Six Cities Since U.S. Went Dry Show Arrests, Decreasing

Boston, Mass.—Official reports of arrests for drunkenness in six of the larger cities of the state for the first month of prohibition, Edward C. R. Bagley, state director of prisons, said, that these arrests in the future would be so few as to constitute a negligible quantity in terms of persons to jails and correctional institutions.

The six cities, which included Worcester and Holyoke, Dr. Bagley said, represented a total of arrests for July of 329, as compared with 975 for June. The report for August would show a considerably further decrease, he said.

Rich Gold Strike

Rush of Prospectors and Miners to Copper Lake District

The Pas, Man.—Details of the gold discovery made at Copper Lake by J. G. Gordon, show that he uncovered a vein six feet wide with a four-inch streak of quartz and gold with a determined volume of 50 per cent.

Gold samples have arrived here containing 10, 15 and 18 per cent gold. The sample with the highest gold was holding the quartz together. Commissioner Wallace has issued a statement saying that no similar rich discovery has ever come under his notice. Gordon says that he sunk a test pit three feet deep and the yellow metal was seen down the side of one wall and freely upon the bottom. The formation surrounding the discovery is a quartz schist located in a small basin of Copper Lake.

A rush of prospectors and miners has taken place and the town is carpeted of every available man. Taking of Petrograd Doubtful

London.—The reported impending attempt to take Petrograd from the Bolsheviks is not likely to materialize according to the Daily Mail's Helsinki correspondent. Sustaining an operation, he points out, must be by land, and the only available forces consist of Finns, Russians and Estonians. It is very doubtful, however, in the opinion of the correspondent, if Finland's help could be obtained, since the Socialist victory in the presidential election defeated General Mannerheim, who alone was capable of leading an expedition.

Scheme to Liquidate Enemy Debts

London.—It has been decided that the board of trade shall be the department to be entrusted with the huge task of the liquidation of enemy debts. A scheme is now being prepared to enable the board to discharge this heavy responsibility.

Ministers are involved, and it is intended that the scheme will last for three years. It is intended to set up a separate department for the purpose, and it is expected that some prominent banker or commercial magnate will be placed at its head.

Withdraw From One Big Union

Vancouver.—The Vancouver postal workers have withdrawn from the Vancouver trades and labor council (One Big Union). The vote of a referendum that has been in progress for the past two weeks was counted here. The result was given as 314 in favor of withdrawing and 90 against.

There are approximately 400 members of the Postal Workers' Association in Vancouver.

German Ambassadors Chosen

Dr. Solt Will Represent Germany in Great Britain

Berlin.—Dr. Haniel von Hainhausen, former counsellor of the German embassy at Washington, has been selected for appointment as German ambassador to the United States, according to authoritative information.

Dr. W. S. Solt, the secretary for the colonies, is the selection for ambassador to Great Britain, and Herr Budowitz, former under-secretary of state, for the ambassadorship in China.

Fritz August Thiel, former German consular representative in Japan, has been picked for the post of ambassador to Tokio.

The appointments of the men selected for ambassadorships, it is stated, depend upon the attitude of the powers in question. If they send charge d'affaires to Berlin, Germany will take like action as to representation in capitals of such powers.

There is no mention at present of the selection of a German ambassador to France.

Washington.—No inquiry has been made of the United States as to whether Von Hainhausen, former counsellor of the imperial embassy here, would be acceptable as ambassador, but there is every indication that this government will not receive Hainhausen or anyone else formerly connected with the embassy under the regime of Count Bernstorff.

Jail Is Sold for Granary

Watertown, California.—The Watertown jail, or "calaboose" as it was called, has been sold for $25, and the present owner is using it for a granary.

On the Russian northwestern front, according to the Soviet statement, the Bolshevik troops are advancing in the region of Pskov, having progressed already to within three and one-half miles of that city.

Shortly after the Bolsheviks message was received, confirmation was given of official quarters here of the Russian Ambassador. A Russian volunteer says it is stated had occupied the city of Batta, 120 miles northwest of Odessa.

Munition Ship Blown Up

Crew Succeeded in Escaping in One of the Boats

Yarmouth, N.S.—Twelve men, members of the crew of the Texas auxiliary four-masted schooner Elmer Roberts, Captain Jorgenson, arrived here reporting that their ship, loaded with ammunition, caught fire and blew up at sea. The schooner was on a voyage from Bordeaux to New York with a full cargo of ammunition. At midnight a lamp exploded in the ship's engine room. The flames spread with such rapidity that the crew had no time to escape in one of the boats, and all their effects, when the vessel blew up, two days later they fell in with the schooner Roseway, of Yarmouth.

Gompers Assists Actors

New York.—Samuel Gompers has pledged "every service and aid" to the American Federation of Labor to the Actors' Equity Association until there comes an honorable and justifiable end to the actors' strike. He appeared unexpectedly at a meeting of 2,000 members of the association and delivered his promise of unstinted assistance in person from the speakers' platform, urging a "fight to the finish." He was given an enthusiastic ovation.

Criticizes U.S. Interference

Paris.—French officials are much exercised over a visit to Turkey that members of the Armenian must make, which the United States is also to have acted also in sending to the Turkish government.

The subject has been under discussion in the supreme council, in which it is reported that there was sharp criticism of United States interference in Turkey through missions and otherwise, despite the fact that the United States has shown no disposition to accept a mandate for the administration of any Turkish territory.

Don't Go to England

London.—Many people who rashly came to England are unable to secure passage homeward, resulting in considerable hardship. There are hopes of improvement in the situation, however, in the course of next month, but Canadians are strongly urged not to travel to England.

Washington.—Prices are beginning to turn downward in various parts of the country, but the slump has not yet gathered momentum sufficient to affect purchases being made for immediate use, according to reports to the department of justice.

Attorney-General Palmer, asked how soon results could be expected from the campaign to reduce the cost of living, the outcome of which railroad employees have been requested to await before pressing demands for wage increases, said all the government wanted was a fair chance to show what could be done to take the artificial inflation out of the market. He said officials were well pleased with the success so far attained and that cumulative results were expected when congress enacts amendments to the food control law by which criminal penalties can be imposed on profiteers and hoarders.

"We hope the public will begin to reap the benefit of our efforts before long," Mr. Palmer said. "For instance, we are making progress in obtaining promises from shoe manufacturers as to fixing a limit beyond which prices shall not go."

Mythical Millions

Each Generation Deluded By Stories of Hidden Treasures

The governor of the Bank of England, Sir Birkin Cokayne, has undertaken to dispel "authoritatively" a delusion regarding famous treasures in distant lands, he including as involving money in other lands as well as in England "in real private tragedies." He denied before the House of Commons that the Bank of England held any large amounts of unclaimed balances. The "Old Lady of Threadneedle Street," as they call, the Bank of England, thus put an end to absorbing stories of "mythical" millions and hidden treasures of gold and diamonds. But if the governor of the Bank thinks he put an end to the search for mythical fortunes, he is mistaken. With every generation there will be some person to hunt for Captain Kidd's gold, shipwreck treasure in the South Seas and fortunes in lands and gold people will continue to be deluded, so long will those persons whom Sir Birkin describes as "unprincipled" profit by fostering such delusions.

Wanted Dangerous Correspondence Destroyed

Basel—Rumanian military authorities have discovered in the archives of the Hungarian foreign ministry a telegram from Otto Bauer, former Austrian state secretary, entrusted with the management of the state bureau of foreign affairs of Bela Kun, former head of the Hungarian communist government, asking him to destroy all documents relative to the delivery of arms to Austria by Hungary, according to a Budapest dispatch received here.

Martial Law in Hungary

Paris.—Martial law, which was proclaimed in Budapest a few days ago, has been extended to the whole of Hungary, says a Havas dispatch from Budapest.

Rome.—Announcement is made here of the inauguration of passenger airplane service between this city and Naples.

Rapid Advance On Western Russian Front

London.—A communiqué issued by the War Office states that General Denikine's forces on the western Russian front continues with great rapidity all along the line.

The capture of Odessa is confirmed, the city having been taken by a detachment of volunteers after two days' bombardment in the Black Sea. The detachment was landed and drove the Bolsheviks out of the town. Along both banks of the Dnieper the volunteers advance toward Kief is progressing.

It is stated on reliable authority that the Bolshevik forces throughout the whole of the Ukraine are completely demoralized.

Paris.—General Denikine, the anti-Bolshevik leader in southern Russia, now dominates a territory larger than Germany, and his forces are daily progressing into central Russia with comparatively slight opposition.

His actual front two days ago, according to accurate military information received here, extended from a few miles east of Odessa northward to Elizabethgrad, then northeast to a few miles south of Kursk, thence east to Novokopersk, continuing to a point on the Volga; a few miles south of Saratov. (Since this dispatch was received the capture of Odessa by anti-Bolshevik forces has been announced.)

Von Beulow On The War

Tells What He Knows About Who Started the Trouble

Berlin.—Prince Bernhard von Buelow, former German chancellor, has in a rather belated manner entered the list of those making reservations concerning the outbreak of war by writing a letter to the Freudenblatt of Hamburg, regarding the statement made by Dr. Theobald von Bethmann-Hollweg, chancellor in 1914, that the declaration of war was inevitable. Prince von Buelow sketches how he was able to avoid war and admits that peace was desired by Dr. Bethmann-Hollweg, who, he says, however, "hacked political art."

"During the grave weeks' before the war," writes Prince von Buelow, "serious diplomatic and political mistakes were made by Germany's political leaders which were unjustly ascribed to the people's responsibility."

Bolshevik Troops Murder Persians

London.—Details have reached here of the murder by Bolsheviks of Ibadullahbeg, the Persian consul agent at Arasir, Armenia, together with 310 Persian subjects, of whom 270 were Mohammedans and 30 Christians.

When the volunteer army evacuated Arasir, July 27, according to the reports, the Bolsheviks called Ibadullahbeg out, shot him down and mutilated his body with swords and bayonets. The Bolsheviks then herded together all the Persians who had taken shelter under the protection of the Persian flag, and shot them en masse with machine-guns and buried them, partly in the consular graveyard and partly in a common pit.

Monument In A School Yard

A Figure of Young Infantryman Done in Fine Granite

Looking out over grain fields and meadow in one of the best agricultural districts of Huron County, Ontario, is a figure of a young infantryman, done in fine granite. The figure surmounts a base, also of stone, and altogether it is a highly creditable art work. Inscribed on the base of the monument are the names of the young farmers of the district, who gave their lives in the nation's defense in the great war, and also those who enlisted, and those who were wounded. What makes the monument the more striking is the fact that it stands in the corner of a school yard. The three young men whose lives were sacrificed in the war were once scholars in the little white brick schoolhouse. They were players and studied and worked hard. Their schoolmates, many of them, are still there. "The homes from which they went, and in which there is a vacant chair, are representative homes."—London Free Press.

YES! MAGICALLY! CORNS LIFT OUT WITH FINGERS

You simply say to the drug store man, "Give me a quarter of an ounce of frezonine." This will cost very little and will remove all your corns and cut corn from one's feet.

A few drops of this new elixir compound applied directly upon a tender, aching toe should relieve your soreness instantly and soon the corn, root and all, dries up and can be lifted out with the fingers.

This new way to rid one's feet of corns is the secret of the Chinese man, who says that, while freezeon is stuck, it dries in a moment, and sticks up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin.

Don't let either die of infection or lockjaw from hitting his corns, but clip this out and make him try it; it is painless.

Money is called the circulating medium because it is difficult to circulate without it.

Worms, by the irritation that they cause in the stomach and intestines, are the main irritants of neuralgia, that should derive from food, and nut-malnutrition is the result. Miller's Worm Powders destroy worms and correct the morbid conditions in the intestinal bowels that are hard to worm to so the full nutriment of the child is assured and development in every way encouraged.

Hon. G. D. Robertson has just returned from a personal investigation of the difficulties.

Provinces Get Share

Money Voted for Highway Construction to Be Divided

Ottawa.—A conference on the question of highway development was opened here in the office of J. A. Campbell, head of the highways branch of the department of railways.

The problem under discussion relates to the spending of the $30,000,000 voted for highway construction by the Dominion parliament last session. Under the provisions of the legislation adopted $8,000,000 is to be paid to each of the provinces in a lump sum, and the subsequent allocation will be on the basis of population.

Representatives of provincial highway departments present at the conference included A. M. McGillivray, of Manitoba; Mr. McLean, of the Ontario Highway Department, and Mr. Carpenter, of the Saskatchewan Highway Department.

Humor of the Country

As the last train was about to go out an old farmer and son who are already overcrooked competitors. It so happened that an occupant—a dandified young man—was one of his customers. By the way of pleasantness, the dude inquired what he had got in a small box under his arm.

"Oh," said the farmer, "a box of chalk."

"I see," the young man replied, with an air of wisdom on his countenance, and, looking round at his fellow passengers— "chalk for the mule, eh?"

"Not exactly," drawled the old chap, slowly; "but I've done so much chalking up for mule at your house that I've had to buy another box!"

France's Forests To Be Restored Quickly

Wherever There Was a Forest Before the War There Is to Be a New Forest

Now France is confronted with the problem of restoration. And she is going about the work in the characteristic systematic French manner. When it was a question of a war, to be won the French gave their lives and fortunes without question and without repining. Now that the war has been won they are displaying the same spirit in the work of repairing war's ravages. Wherever there was a forest before the war there is to be a new forest. The French may be merciful and effervescent, but when it comes to a matter of the motherland's welfare there is no more practical people on the surface of the earth. From French frugality and from French foreign America may well learn a lesson. Not only to repair the damages of war, but also to compensate for the inroads of American industry, America should have more forests. The French have done well to have planned to make a stand on the Rhine river, which crosses the trans-Siberian railroad about 175 miles west of Omsk. Reports hitherto have stated that the Siberian retreat would stand on the line of Tobolsk, about 90 miles further west.

Tokyo.—It is reported that at a recent meeting the imperial cabinet, upholding the policy advanced by the military element in the government, decided to pursue a policy of expansion of Manchuria and Mongolia from the consortium by which Great Britain, France, the United States and Japan will assume a dominant position in the finances of China. It is said that negotiations will be resumed with the powers on that basis.

"Oh," said the farmer, "a box of chalk."

"I see," the young man replied, with an air of wisdom on his countenance, and, looking round at his fellow passengers— "chalk for the mule, eh?"

"Not exactly," drawled the old chap, slowly; "but I've done so much chalking up for mule at your house that I've had to buy another box!"

On Getting Angry

A prominent English advertising man who desires to remain anonymous, is responsible for the thought here presented. There will be many who will endeavor to put into practice what is suggested—with varying degrees of success.

You lose too temper during business hours, of course. It's a human weakness common to most of us—but weaknesses can be rectified. It is all a matter of determination:

The phone rings, for instance, when you are in the middle of an interview with an important client; some one interrupts while you are endeavoring to concentrate on a big scheme; your employees make mistakes for which you suffer; you get angry; completely lose your grip of yourself; your nerves are radically out of order; you lose everything in general and business in particular. You are sick of things—that is how you express it to yourself. You make your employees fear and dislike you, and yourself unhappy. Silly, isn't it?

Frankly, when you sit down quietly with your mental equilibrium once more restored, and think calmly and calmly about the cause of your irritability and the expression of it, don't you feel that you displayed a childish lack of control and made yourself unnecessarily unhappy?

HUMANITY IS FALLIBLE

After all, you will recall, both the irritating phone call and the interruption were essential, and well—your employees don't make mistakes for the purpose—they are loyal to you, but they are just human beings with a human capacity for making mistakes. You know, once the little engine is over, runs as smoothly as ever. Failing the crude organization fails you, realizing that you were a weak fruit to give such an exhibition of temper—you were not justified. No man is justified in losing his temper, for by so doing he is bringing gloom and sorrow into the world when he might be radiating happiness and laughter.

It's a good old world—and you know it when you are rational and logical; one's fellow-creatures are a kindly race; life is good; if it doesn't seem so, then your perspective is all wrong, and what you want is a good brisk walk across the wind-swept hills alone with yourself. If the joyous trappings of the out-of-doors doesn't restore you to a reasonable frame of mind nothing will!

Hold ON to YOURSELF

The man who keeps a firm hold on himself when things go wrong is master of the situation; the man who loses his head lets the situation master him.

"When you get angry with someone else you admit that person's superiority—it was Diefenbaker who said that, I believe—it is big to be angry. It stands to reason that if a foolish person has sufficient power to make you angry, he/she must have a greater will than yours, and the cultivation of a firm self-control is one of the first essentials in the making of a strong character—and certain it is that no man makes good progress in this world without a strong character! No man can be either happy or successful or useful unless he is strong enough to rise above petty irritations and master petty difficulties. It is not easy—but then the living of a sane, clean, healthy, happy, serviceable life isn't altogether easy—but it's worth while. It's good to feel that one is Captain of one's soul—the man who is a drifter, and his drifting will not assuredly not lead him to the port of success."

Here's something to remember—a little fragment of Jean Ingelow's that can be well applied to the business man: a little fragment with a big ideal—but an ideal that is attainable:

Classy Animal Acts With Hugo Bros. Circus

Trained Ponies, Monkey, Goats, Dogs, Donkeys, Lions, Baboons, Pigs, Horses and Elephants. All to be seen with Hugo Bros.

And one of the feature acts that delights the younger patrons of Hugo Bros. Shows is the trained dogs and ponies. These beautiful little animals do everything but talk, and their drills, marches and dances and other evolutions are a sight to behold. The trained ponies, in the ring, and another feature that delights all the patrons from six to six is the wonderful performances of the trained goats, monkeys, pigs, and elephants. In fact, besides the aerial, wild west and other acts of every description a complete trained animal performance is given, which cannot describe the many remarkable qualities of almost human intelligence shown by the trained animals with the above shows. Besides ponies, goats, monkeys, baboons, pigs and dogs that do everything but talk, and with an army of funny clowns to furnish the fun, and the greatest lady and gentlemen performers that will furnish the girls lots of dancing, skill and beauty. Now the Hugo Bros. Shows will exhibit at Blairmore on Sept. 12th, afternoon and night, and will be worth driving miles to see, so don't fail to come.

A Real Man

A real man never talks about what the world owes him, the happiness he deserves, the chance he ought by right to have, and all that. All he claims is the right to live and play the man.

A real man is just as honest alone in the dark, in his own room, as he is in public.

A real man does not want puffs, tips and favors. He wants work and honest wages.

A real man is loyal to his friend and guards his reputation as his own.

A real man is dependable. His simple word is as good as his Bible oath.

A real man does a little more than he promises.

A real man does not want something for nothing, the so-called rich-quick people cannot use him.

A real man honors a woman, any woman. He cannot hurt a woman, either physically or morally. He sticks to his wife. He can be loyal, even if love is impossible.

A real man minds his own business. He does not judge other people.

A real man always has an excuse for not working for himself. He is patient and charitable to them, to himself he is strict.

A real man is glad to live, and not afraid to die.

A real man never hunts danger, and never dodges it when he ought to meet it.

A real man's love is like a dog's and that's saying a great deal.

A real man is—well, he is just, a real man, the finest, noblest, most refreshing thing to find on all the green earth unless it be a real woman.

Table Board Must be Good

A man sentenced to Sing Sing in May, 1917, has already over-stayed his sentence more than 7 months, and refuses to go home. He is working with a construction gang building the new prison, and the warden says he does as much work as any four men. The pay allowed prisoners by the State amounts to 14 cents a day. This man was greatly relieved when he was told that the prison authorities would not shut off his pay to make him apply for parole, which he has so far steadfastly refused to do.

"Take Joy home,
And make a place in thy great heart
for her,
Then will she come and oft will sing to thee,
When thou art working in the furrows,
Joy—

Or reclining in the sacred hour of dawn,
It is a comely fashion to be glad.
Joy is the grace we say to God!"

Stop Decrying The Farm

Confronted with the task of re-organizing Canada on a peace basis following the upheaval of the Great War, and faced with the necessity of discharging that task under entirely new conditions and with a new social order demanded by all, thinking men and women all over the Dominion are endeavoring to ascertain what is Canada's most pressing need and how that need can be supplied.

It seems to be fairly generally accepted that from a financial, economic and purely business standpoint the most pressing national need of the Dominion is that all men and women shall become imbued with the ambition to work as they have been worked at by the men and by their labor produced from the agricultural resources of this country the wealth which will enable Canada to meet its enormous war debt and heavy national obligations, and discharge the duties and responsibilities imposed upon it.

Opinion, however, is divided as to the policies to be inaugurated and the methods employed to bring about this development of our natural resources and consequent greater production of wealth. Consequently upon this division of opinion, many phases of the big problem have become political issues in a partisan sense, one party advocating one policy, another party upholding an entirely different policy and course of action. In regard to those aspects of this problem which have become subjects of political controversy it is not the function nor intention of the writer of this article to deal. We leave them to the governments and politicians, and to their franchises, to make the exercise of their franchises make the unmake governments and politicians.

In the final analysis, however, it is the farmers of Canada who must largely solve the problem which confronts Canada today. Farmers represent the greatest and the basic industry of Canada. As a class they constitute the largest group in our population. They are the largest primary producers of wealth in this Dominion. Unless agriculture succeeds, Canada cannot grow and prosper. These are self-evident facts. It is important, therefore, that the country should be impressed by them, and that all governments in Canada should govern themselves accordingly. The government that devotes itself most assiduously to the welfare and promotion of successful agriculture in Canada will prove to be the best government.

However, while governments can do much, and ought to do far more than they have done in the past to encourage and develop the business of farming, there are some things which the people, and more particularly the farmers, must do themselves. Some of these things were referred to by Hon. Duncan Marshall, minister of agriculture for Alberta, in a speech which is deserving of the widest possible publicity.

First and foremost, declared Mr. Marshall, it is our duty to see to it that the farmers' sons and daughters throughout the entire Dominion are so effectively trained that they will be qualified to make the best farmers and farmers' wives that can be found anywhere in the civilized world. He arraigned Canadian governments for their failure to spread agricultural education throughout Canada. "Never in Canada's history," he said, "was the need of agricultural education so serious. Never in public school did a teacher tell me it would be a fine thing to be a farmer. I never had a teacher say to me that it would be the sweetest and best ambition to settle down and endeavor to become the best cultivator of land and best live stock breeder in the county of Bruce. I am a big short-horn breeder in Alberta in spite of the education I got in Ontario. In Belgium, the best draft horse breeding country in the world, I find in the school text books such lines as 'this horse is a good horse because his feet are sound,' and 'this horse is a strong horse because his back is strong.' When I read that I understand why Belgium beats the world in horse breeding, and then I think of the stuff they told me about the cat and the mat and the hat and the mat."

Mr. Marshall continued: "We have got to teach the boys and girls in the public schools that the finest business in this world, the one that offers the biggest opportunity for home building and the greatest opportunity to become a useful citizen is that of tilling the soil on a good farm. We have got to get away from this business of belittling the farmer, and there have been many farmers engaged in running down their own business more than anybody else. They say that it is drudgery, and the ladies at times have said such things as, 'Poor girl, she married a farmer.' That is the kind of thing I want to get out of the minds of the sons and daughters of this Dominion of Canada."

And who will say Mr. Marshall is not right? One never hears of a lawyer, a doctor, or a manufacturer decrying his business, nor their wives, or children, or the secretary, they boast of their occupations, the best and finest in the world. We all need to stop decrying the farm business, and, on the other hand, to give Canadian boys and girls an inspiration to take up agriculture. The welfare of our people and our national stability depends upon it.

West Gains Many New Immigrants
Winnipeg.—Since the beginning of the year 15,434 settlers, bringing with them money and personal property valued at $8,577,893, have entered Western Canada. A large majority of the immigrants went to Saskatchewan and Alberta. Manitoba 2,061, western Ontario 429, Saskatchewan 5,026, Alberta 6,154, and British Columbia 1,000. Almost all the immigrants are farmers with their families. Many of them are taking homesteads, with some buying improved farms.

H. W. Wood Says Deal on to Sell Part of Crop at $2.30

Calgary—That Alberta farmers will receive at least the price they did last year for this season's wheat crop was the statement made by H. W. Wood, president of the United Farmers of Alberta, and member of the Canadian Grain Board.

"How much more than the $2.15 initial price are the farmers likely to receive?" he was asked.

"I do not know," replied Mr. Wood. "Last year the millers paid a fixed price of $2.24½ and a carrying charge of three cents, making the total figure $2.27½. The indications are, and in fact negotiations are now on for the sale of quite a quantity of this year's wheat at around $2.30. It is possible that the export demand will be somewhat higher in the future, and as such export price increases the price to the millers will be fixed on the same level."

Asked as to what the cost of the administration would be, Mr. Wood stated he did not know the exact figure, but it would be small, probably a fraction of a cent a bushel. "How does the price compare with that of the United States wheat?" Mr. Wood was asked.

"Number 1 Northern minimum price at Duluth has been fixed at $2.22½," he replied.

Mr. Wood stated that the Canada Grain Board were again meeting the second Thursday in September.

10,000 Yet To Come

Difficult to Say When Rest of C.E.F. Will Get Home

Ottawa—It is difficult to state just how long it will take to bring home the balance of the Canadian Expeditionary Force now in England. Late reports received at the Military Department place the number of men to be brought out at about 10,000. This number may have been decreased by sailings taking place within the past couple of days. The movement of these men is somewhat delayed by the fact that most of them have dependents, and that accommodation boats have to be provided for women and children. If boats are available the remainder of Canada's army should reach home shortly within a comparatively short time.

Seven Whiskey Still Raided

Saskatoon.—Seven illicit whiskey stills working overtime in the Caribou, Sask. district east of here were raided by Inspector J. M. Danis, of the inland revenue department, R.N.W.M.P. and provincial officers. Eight men were arrested, and they paid fines totalling $1,870. The stills were ordered confiscated. This is the largest single round-up since Saskatchewan went dry.

Third Dose Relief!
Fifth Dose!
Diarrhoea Stopped.

Diarhoea does not need to persist for any length of time until the whole system is weakened and debilitated. No other disease so quickly undercuts the strength and brings about a condition of exhaustion and very often total collapse.

Dave's duties were simple enough. He had to drive a wagon to a coal yard, where a very superior young man, with a collar, would express surprise that he had been so long and tell him to back in under a number so-and-so. It required to be always a man of great distinction to this young man that Dave did not know which chute to back under until he was told. Having backed into position, a door was opened. There was a fiction that the coal in the bin should then run into the wagon box, but as Dave at once discovered, this was merely a fiction. Aside from a few accomodating lumps near the door, the coal had to be shovelled. When the box was judged to be full the wagon was driven on to the scales. If the load were too heavy some of it had to be thrown off while the young man with the collar passed remarks appropriate to the occasion. If the load were too light less distress was experienced. Then Dave had to drive to an address that was given him, shop the coal down a chisel, position the premises afforded, and return to the coal yard, where the young man with the collar would faintly inquire whether Mrs. Blank had invited him in to afternoon tea, or if he had been waiting for a change in the weather.

Conditions in the boarding-house had the value of distracting Dave's attention from the unpleasantness of his work. Mrs. Metford, handicapped by her numerous offspring, enlivened by the regular recurrence of her contributions to the state, and disinterested by drudgery and overwork, had long ago ceased to place any store on personal appearance or even cleanliness. As Dave watched her slovenly shuffle to and from the kitchen, preened and purposed by young Metfords in all degrees of childish innocence, his mind flew back to dim recollections of his own mother and the quiet, noiseless order of their home. Even in the latter days, when he and his father had been anything but model housekeepers, they had never known such equal as this.

Metford's attitude toward his wife fluctuated from coarse humor to brutality, but they were left in the woman no spark of spirit to resist. With neither tongue nor eye did she make any response, and her shufflings back and forth were neither hastened nor delayed by the pleasure of her lord. Her beauty was that of one who had suffered, and the sense of her suffering had the last drop of bitterness, for whom no possible change of condition could be worse. Her indifference was tragic.

The sleeping accommodations had the virtue of simplicity. The Metford tribe was housed in a lean-to which supported one wall of the kitchen, and the eight boarders slept upstairs over the main part of the house. The room was not large, but it had four corners, and in each corner stood a cheap iron bed with bony springs and musty mattresses. The ceiling, none too high at any part, sloped at the walls almost to the edges of the beds. One table and wash basin had to serve for the eight boarders; those who were impatient for their turn might omit their ablations altogether or perform them in the horse-trough at the barn.

All Metford's employees, with the exception of Dave, were foreigners, more or less incongruous with the English language. Somewhat to his surprise, they maintained an attitude of superiority toward him, carrying on their conversations in a strange tongue, and allowing him little part in their common life. Dave's spirit, which had always been accustomed to receive and be received on a basis of absolute equality, rebelled violently against the intangible wall of exclusion which his fellow workers built about themselves, and as they had shown no desire for his company he retaliated by showing still less for theirs, with the result that he found himself very much alone and apart from the life of his new surroundings.

His work and supper were over by seven o'clock each evening, and now was the opportunity for him to begin the schooling for which he had left the ranch. But he developed a sudden disinclination to make the start; he was tired in the evening, and he found it "hard" more to his liking to sit around town, go to the eighties, the street corners, or sit up in an occasional game of pool. In this way, the weeks went by, and when his month with Metford was up he had neglected to find another position, so he continued where he was. He was being gradually and unconsciously submerged in an inertia, which however much it might hate its present surroundings, had not the spirit to seek a more favorable environment.

The fall and winter drifted along; Dave had made few acquaintances and no friends, if we except Conward, whom he frequently met in the pool rooms, and for whom he had developed a sort of attachment. His first underlying sense of distrust had been killed by closer acquaintance; Conward's mild manner and quiet seductive voice invited friendship, and it became a customary thing for the two to play for small stakes, which Dave won as often as he lost. One Saturday evening Dave was on the way to his accustomed resort in town with Conward when he saw a "Hello, old man," said Conward, cheerily. "I was just looking for you. Got two tickets for the show to-night. Some swell dames in the chorus. Come along. There'll be lots of interest in the play. (To Be Continued.)

There were two theatres in the town, one of which played to the better class residents. In it anything of a risqué nature had to be presented with certain trimmings which allowed it to be classified as "art," but in the other house no such restrictions existed. It was to the latter that Conward led. Dave had been there before, in the cheap upper gallery, but Conward's tickets admitted to the best seats in the house. Dave had adopted town ways to the point where he changed his clothes and put on a white collar Saturday evenings, and he found himself and the gay rustics with a new pleasure, which was being somebody among other sombodies. The orchestra played a swinging air, to which his foot kept a tap, and presently the curtain went up and the show was on with a rush of girls and color.

It was an entirely new experience. From the upper gallery the actors and actresses always seemed more or less impersonal and abstract, but here they were living, palpitating human beings, almost within hand reach, certainly within eye reach, as Dave was presently discovered. There was a trooping of girls about the stage, with singing and rippling laughter and sweet, clear voices; then a sudden change of formation flung a line of girls right across behind the footlights, where they tripped merrily through motions of mingled grace and acrobatics. Dave found himself regarding the young woman immediately before him; all in white she was, with some scintillating material that sparkled in the glare of the spotlight; then suddenly she was, red and pink and purple, and mauve, and blue again in the dark. And although she performed the various steps with smiling abandon, there was in her dress and manner a modesty which fascinated the boy with a subtlety which a more reckless appearance would have once detected.

And then Dave looked in her face. It was a pretty face, notwithstanding its grease-paint, and it smiled right into his eyes. His heart thumped between his shoulders as though it would drive all the air from his lungs. She smiled at him—for him. Now they were away again; there were gyrations about the stage, he almost lost her in the maze, a young man in fine clothes rushed in, and was apparently being mobbed by the girls, and said some lines in a rapid voice which Dave's ear had not been trained to catch; and then he danced about with one of them—with the very one with his own. My, how simple the was! He wondered if she knew the young man very well. They seemed very friendly. But he supposed she had to do that anyway; it was part of her job; it was all in the play. Certainly, the young man was very clever, but he didn't like his looks. Certainly he could dance very well. "I could make him dance different to the tune of a six-shooter," Dave said to himself, and then flushed a little. That was silly. The young man was paid to do this, too. Still it looked like a very good job. It looked like a very good job that shovelling coal for Metford.

Then there was a sudden break away in the dance, and the girl disappeared behind a forest, and the boy of the young man recommended: Dave supposed she had gone to rats dancing like that must be hard on the wind. He found little to interest him now in what was going on in the stage. It seemed rather foolish. They were just capping around and being foolish. They were a lot of second-raters. And the young man—it was plain, he didn't care a whit for them; he was just doing it because he had to. There was a vacant seat in front. He wished the girl behind the forest would come down and rest there. Then she could see the show herself. Then she could see—

But there was a whirr from the forest, and the girl re-appeared, this time all in red, but not nearly so much in red as she had previously been in white. My, what a quick change she had made! And how her skirt stood out like a rim when she whirled herself! And the young man left all the rest and went to dance with her again. Dave was not altogether pleased with the scene of events. But presently the dance broke up, and they were flung again in fine across the stage. And there she was, all in red—not all in red, but certainly not in any other color—right before him. And then she looked down and smiled at him. And he smiled back. And then he looked at Conward and saw him smiling, too. And then he felt a very distressing uncertainty, which brought the color slowly to his face. He resolved to say nothing, but watch. And his observations convinced him that the smiles had been for Conward, not for him. And then he lost interest in the play.

New Zeppelin Airship N-4

Builders Have Discarded Cigar-Shaped and Adopted a Conical, Out-lined Exterior

Berlin.—A new Zeppelin airship, on its maiden trip from Friedrichshafen to Berlin, covered the 700 kilometers (about 435 miles) in a little more than six hours. The aircraft, which is named Bodenwe, attained a maximum speed of 120 kilometers (a little more than 74½ miles) an hour. The builders of the new type of machine have discarded the familiar cigar-shape of the old Zeppelins and adopted a conical outlined exterior. Bodenwe carries 35 passengers. It is equipped with wireless and has a spacious passenger cabin. The passengers are able to obtain hot and cold running wafer. The aircraft is to go into a daily service. Twenty passengers, among them three women, made the initial trip in the airship. The Bodenwe was built for the British Admiralty and is efficient in many naval accessories such as docks and destroyers. The lesson to be learned, he said, was to be prepared, and he therefore hoped that schemes would be evolved whereby the Dominions would not be dependent almost entirely for their security on the British Navy.

Investigate Racing Situation
Ottawa.—The appointment of Dr. Rutherford to investigate the racing situation is favored by the racing interests, who look to him for what they regard as a square deal. The commissioner's report will be the basis of permanent legislation in the next session of parliament, and the enquiry implements a promise made by Sir Thomas White last session. It is predicted that racing will come back, but with limitation of tracks and a divvying up of receipts with the government.

Mutual
"Oh, George," murmured the sweet thing, reproachfully, "what would papa say if he knew that you ever touched liquor?"

"He has discovered it already, dearest," admitted her fiance sadly.

"Mercy! What did he say?"

"He said, 'Well, George, I don't mind if I do!'"

Estimates N.D. Crop

Fargo, N.D.—Dr. B. F. Trowbridge of North Dakota Experimental Station, has stated that the state's wheat crop this fall will total 50,000,000 bushels.

German Sugar Production

Berlin, Germany.—The German sugar production for 1919 shows a decrease of nearly 2,000,000 double centners, as compared with 1918. A previous report from Berlin said the authorities claimed to have arrested or detained all the persons engaged in the conspiracy, when the airplanes which were to carry the booty into Switzerland were intercepted near Nuremberg, Bavaria.

Woman's Future
In Industrialism

Advocates Equal Rate of Pay for Both Sexes

London—Speaking at Whitehead's

luncheon on "The Future of Women in Industry," Miss Maud Royden, one of the leaders of the women's future, said that the chop shop of other years, one of the sorts of points at present, was the cheap labor of women. Dealing with the Restoration of Pre-War Practices, Miss Royden said that it would mean that 792,000 women would be turned out of their work, chiefly in the engineering trade. Of these, 450,000 had taken the places of men, but the rest had come in through the expansion of industry, and especially of the aircraft industry, which had been largely created by the work of women.

If these women were forbidden to work it would be because men feared their competition.

3. Its Lodging Capacity

The birds which and lodgment in

the tree do not represent the children

of men who find safety and salvation

in the church. The birds constitute

no part of the tree, while the beetle

becomes a part of the tree, adding to its strength and fruitfulness. The birds are something foreign to the tree, and are burdensome and injurious to it. They come to find shelter and wait to pluck off the tender

buds, or to prey upon the ripened fruit. The effect of their lodging in the tree is evil and blighting. In

Christ's interpretation (v. 19) he said

that the fowls represent the wicked

ones. He who would make the fowls

here anything else makes Christ's interpretation a farce. The same

Greek word is used in both cases, and the circumstances are the same.

11. The Parable of the Leavened Meal (v. 23)

Three things mainly occupy our

attention in this parable:

1. Its Unimportant Beginning

It begins as the least of all seeds and

grows to be the greatest among

herbs. The king was of ordinary

parentage and humble circumstances

but selected unfeathered fowl from the market to be his birds. The prophet had advised concerning his birds that he would be "despised," "rejected," "orsaken," "cut off" and as "having nothing."

2. Its Vigorous Growth

From these small beginnings Christ's influence

has gone forth so that there is no

power or influence equal in greatness

to that of Christendom.

3. Its Lodging Capacity

The birds which and lodgment in

the tree do not represent the children

of men who find safety and salvation

in the church. The birds constitute

no part of the tree, while the beetle

becomes a part of the tree, adding to

its strength and fruitfulness. The

birds are something foreign to the tree, and are burdensome and injurious to it. They come to find shelter

and wait to pluck off the tender

buds, or to prey upon the ripened

fruit. The effect of their lodging in the tree is evil and blighting. In

Christ's interpretation (v. 19) he said

that the fowls represent the wicked

ones. He who would make the fowls

here anything else makes Christ's

interpretation a farce. The same

Greek word is used in both cases, and the circumstances are the same.

11. The Parable of the Leavened Meal (v. 23)

Three things mainly occupy our

attention in this parable:

1. Its Unimportant Beginning

It begins as the least of all seeds and

grows to be the greatest among

herbs. The king was of ordinary

parentage and humble circumstances

but selected unfeathered fowl from

the market to be his birds. The prophet had

advised concerning his birds that he would be "despised," "rejected," "orsaken," "cut off" and as "having nothing."

2. Its Vigorous Growth

From these small beginnings Christ's influence

has gone forth so that there is no

power or influence equal in greatness

to that of Christendom.

3. Its Lodging Capacity

The birds which and lodgment in

the tree do not represent the children

of men who find safety and salvation

in the church. The birds constitute

no part of the tree, while the beetle

becomes a part of the tree, adding to

its strength and fruitfulness. The

It is added that the British Admiralty has no knowledge concerning the fate of the Bremer, but that it is assumed the submarine founder while endeavoring to cross the Atlantic.

In New Guinea it is always leap Year, for in that island men consider it beneath their dignity to notice women, much less to make overtures of marriage. Consequently the proposing is left to the women to do. When a New Guinea woman falls in love with a man she sends a piece of string to his sister, or, if he has no sister, to his mother or another of his lady relatives. Then the lady who receives the string tells the favored man that the particular woman is in love with him. No courting follows, however, for it is considered beneath a New Guinea man's dignity to waste time in such a pursuit. If the man thinks he would like to wed the lady, he meets her alone, and they decide whether to marry or not.

The teacher of a little rural school was trying to acquaint the youthful mind with all the workings of the Federal Government, its bodies and their duties. Having covered the lesson, she began her review, asking, "How many houses of parliament are there?"

Answer—"Two."

Teacher—"Name them."

Very promptly and without malicious intent, one little girl piped up: "The House of Commons and the House of Refuge."

Mr. and Mrs. J. Menard arrived here from France last week end and spent a few days as the guests of the local officials of the West Canadian Collieries. Mr. Menard went over to France in 1914, where he was engaged as an interpreter for the British and French governments, and joined the army of benevolents just before leaving France for Canada.

A Georgia editor claims to be able to judge a man's character by the way he drives a motor car, or words to that effect. He says that when he sees a gentleman coming towards him in a motor car, he gives him half the road; when he sees a fool coming he gives him all of it, and when he sees a darn fool coming he takes to the woods or climbs a tree or telephone pole. Every man who drives a car knows that he has to look out for two cars—his own, and the other fellow's. He is not afraid of an accident from his own driving; that is, he is not afraid of his own car. It is the other fellow's car that causes him the most anxiety. And here, in Georgia, it is the fool and the darn fool that is most to be feared.

About a week ago we entered a Chinese restaurant in Macleod, accompanied by a well known minister of the Gospel in "civilian" garb. On settling ourselves comfortably in a semi-dark booth, the Chinaman appeared and we asked "What have you, John?" John Chinaman replied, "Nothing but two per cent today, Gentlemen."
